

Australian Government

Department of Home Affairs

22 Apr 2020

English Language Assessment expiring

Please note that the English language test result you have provided is now more than 36 months from the date of the test indicated in the expression of interest. The English language test validity requirement for Skilled migration visas is 36 months and is calculated from the date the test was taken. If your English language test was undertaken more than 36 months from the date you apply for your visa, your visa may be refused. You may wish to update your expression of interest with the results of a valid English language test.

Need more information on the SkillSelect process

For more information on how SkillSelect operates, please refer to our website which details the process:

<http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Work/Skil>

Contacting the department

If you need to contact the department, you should view our contact methods located on the department's website at:

<https://www.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-and-support/contact-us>

Thank you